

Jamille Wilkes Ruebsahm
Executive Director, Sense Corp Texas 4000 for Cancer

Jamille Ruebsahm serves as the Executive Director of the Sense Corp Texas 4000 for Cancer. In this role she manages all aspects of the 4,687 mile bike ride from Austin, Texas to Anchorage, Alaska, the largest non-profit charity bike ride in the world. Since the organization's inception six years ago, the organization has raised more than $1 million in the fight against cancer. Prior to joining Texas 4000, Jamille worked for Deloitte & Touche as an internal auditor and consultant.

Jamille holds a Bachelor of Business Administration and Masters in Public Accounting from The University of Texas at Austin. She is married, is a member of Junior League and spends her free time volunteering throughout the community, traveling to new destinations and enjoying Austin.

Jonathan Christopher "Chris" Condit
Founder, Sense Corp Texas 4000 for Cancer

Chris Condit is the founder of the Sense Corp Texas 4000 for Cancer. As a cancer survivor himself, Chris combined his two of his passions: fighting cancer and outdoor adventure to create the Texas 4000 during his senior year at The University of Texas. Now the longest charity bicycle ride in the world. Texas 4000 has grown into a major non profit that annually supports cancer research through The University of Texas M.D. Anderson Cancer Center.

Chris served as Executive Director for Texas 4000 from 2007-2009 and is currently pursuing his Ph.D from The University of Texas at Austin in biomedical engineering. Prior to serving as Executive Director, Chris worked as a research and development engineer with CardioSpectra, Inc. where he developed endoscopic laser imaging systems for minimally invasive diagnosis of cancer, heart disease, and other infirmities.

Condit holds a Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering from The University of Texas at Austin and filed his first patent at age 23. Condit is married and spends his free time with friends biking around Austin, camping, and serving at his church.